"For students in this course who may have a criminal background, please be advised that the background could keep you from being licensed by the State of Texas. If you have a question about your background and licensure, please speak with your faculty member or the Assistant Dean. You also have the right to request a criminal history evaluation letter from the applicable licensing agency."

We wish you all the best in your education and encourage you to contact us if you have any questions or concerns.

Keeping student success in sight, faculty in each of the courses will review with students, course information with specific reading schedules, assignments, and testing information during the first week of class. Additionally, the course information will be posted to Blackboard (THECB 60x30TX compliance).

Course Description: A survey of information regarding children with special needs including possible causes and characteristics of exceptionalities, intervention strategies, available resources, referral processes, the advocacy role, and legislative issues

Semester Hours Credit: 3

Lecture/Lab Hours: The class meets for two (2) lecture hours and two (2) lab hours per week.

Prerequisite: Intermediate Course

Textbook(s): The Exceptional Child, 8th ed, Allen, Cengage. ISBN-13: 978-1-285-43237-3

End of course outcomes:

Upon successful completion of this course, the student will be able to:

1. Use critical thinking skills to summarize causes, incidences and characteristics of exceptionalities related to the domains of development
2. Use communication skills to discuss current terminology and practices for intervention strategies
3. Use personal and social responsibility to identify appropriate community resources and referrals for individual children and families
4. Use empirical and quantitative data to identify legislation and legal mandates and their impact on practices and environments
5. Use communication skills to explain the role of advocacy for children with special needs and their families
6. Use critical thinking skills to identify materials and resources, including current technology, to support learning in all domains for each and every child

Teaching Methods: Lecture, discussion, videos and group activities

Evaluation Methods: Will be based on the following criteria:

Daily assignments	30%
Tests and Final	30%
